◆ How can church-related institutions hire faculty who embrace and forward the church-related mission of their institutions? ◆ What are the best practices for church-related colleges that select faculty on the basis of their religious convictions and practices? How can such criteria be applied? Is it legal to do so? Who should apply these criteria—departments, deans, provosts? ◆ What are the best ways for church-related institutions with a pluralistic faculty to hire a diverse faculty whose members nevertheless forward church-related mission? ◆ How can administrators balance hiring for mission with academic communities devoted to departmental autonomy? ◆ What are some of the principal ways that successful, church-related schools have managed to discover, recruit, and appoint outstanding faculty who share and advance the mission of the institution?

The Workshop is offered at no cost to senior administrators at Lilly Network member institutions as well as twenty guests from non-member schools. Each institution is eligible to register one senior administrator (president, vice president, academic dean, provost, or equivalent). One participant from each school will be reimbursed for travel costs up to $600. Meals and hotel accommodations will also be paid by the Lilly National Network of Church-Related Colleges and Universities. Additional participants from member schools will be waitlisted until August 29, 2018, and will be enrolled as slots become available.

The Workshop will begin with 11:00 am registration on Thursday, October 11, 2018 and end by 1:00 pm on Friday, October 12, 2018.
