

Announcing the 2nd Cohort of The Lilly Faculty Fellows Program

The Lilly Faculty Fellows Program is designed for mid-career faculty leaders across the disciplines to engage the intersections of Christian thought and practice with the academic vocation. This initiative will:

1. Refresh and enliven a sense of calling for participants as people of faith, as teachers, and scholars
2. Provide a space for creative exploration of how Christian thought and practice intersect the academic vocation
3. Provide funds for Fellows to develop and pilot Faculty Fellow programs on their own campuses

The Program

We will select 6-7 teams of two Fellows each, from different Lilly Network Schools. Each team will participate in a two-year program that includes four conferences in Indianapolis and Chicago. We will also provide start-up funds of $8,000 to each participating team to inaugurate a Lilly Faculty Fellows Program on its own campus. Individual Fellows also will be awarded a $4,000 honorarium for participation.

Eligibility

Applicants must demonstrate a desire for the Fellowship, creative engagement with the intersections of Christian and academic thought and practice, and established campus leadership.

Applications are for teams of two mid-career faculty members.

Applicants must be tenured (or equivalent at their institutions) at a member school of the Lilly Network of Church-Related Colleges and Universities. Applicants must be teaching faculty.

At least one member of the team must be in a STEM, social scientific, or professional field.

Applicant teams must have approval from their chairs or preferably deans.
